

Working student in Product Management

Oberkochen | München

Thrive on innovation at a global technology leader. Develop exciting solutions in a diverse, stable work environment that's focused on the future. Join us in a modern work environment with an open and inspiring culture and colleagues!

Your job

- Support the Global Product Management Team in Agile Development projects regarding Hardware, Software and Commercialization
- Support in the creation Segmentation, Targeting and Positioning proposals for Ophthalmic Surgery Systems
- Evaluation of clinical material
- Derive proofs for Marketing Claims from the evaluation of clinical material
- Support in the creation of management presentations
- Support in the organization of Surgeon meetings

Our requirements

- You are currently enrolled in a course of study in the fields of Business Administration, Engineering, Marketing or a related field
- You are fluent in English (speaking and writing)
- You possess very good MS-Office skills
- Your motivation is to acquire new Knowledge & Skills
- You value Team-work, Flexibility and Clear Communication

At ZEISS we encourage creative thinking and innovation. We work in dynamic and interdisciplinary teams and offer individual development perspectives as well as flexibility in organizing your work. We care about our employees and take particular responsibility for improving society and preserving our environment. These core values have shaped our corporate culture at ZEISS for over 170 years.

Help us shape the future!

The application process takes less than 10 minutes, we look forward to receiving your application.

Your contact

Lisa Kaufmann
Carl Zeiss AG

✉ lisa.kaufmann@zeiss.com

☎ +497364202715

