

air
up

air up – A revolutionary way of drinking

Are you looking to take on a new challenge in a creative and highly motivated team working to make a positive impact in the world?

At air up it is our mission to support the well-being of consumers and enable a more sustainable lifestyle by offering a globally unique, refillable drinking system.

What makes air up special? We have harnessed the physiological science behind taste perception to add flavor to water using just scent. With air up, consumers can enjoy the taste of cherries, peaches, orange-passion fruit or even cola, while drinking only water. No sugar, no artificial additives and no other ingredients - but 100% surprising taste and less plastic waste. Join us to establish the market segment of “scent-based taste” and radically redefine drinking.

#thinknewdrinknew

Intern Quality Assurance (f/m/d)

Your responsibilities

- You will support our efforts to streamline Quality Assurance (QA)/ Quality Control (QC) in our day-to-day operations
- You examine and propose improvements for our product, processes and standards to increase customer satisfaction
- You assist with creation and review of documents such as product specifications, reports and processes
- You have a close eye on any deviations, deriving and implementing corrective as well as preventive actions
- Supporting air up's Quality Management System, you will collaborate closely with other departments such as Logistics, Procurement and Product Management to create and maintain all needed support and records

That's you

- You are currently enrolled at university or have recently graduated preferably in Process Engineering, Industrial Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Chemistry, Physics, Food Technology or related fields
- Maybe you already have some practical experience in Quality Assurance, Quality Control, Plastic Injection, and/or Food Production
- You would like to learn more about Quality Management in a Food Industry Start-up and see yourself pursuing a career in this field

think new.
drink
new.

- Your strengths include strong analytical skills, solid communication and outstanding commitment
- Full professional fluency in English is essential, German language would be a great plus
- A high degree of willingness to learn and to integrate, the ability to work in a team in combination with customer focus and a good sense of humour complete your profile

This is us

We are much more than we are able to put into words, so we'll mention just a few things that make working at air up great:

- We are a highly diverse team, with backgrounds from all over the world, working towards a common goal
- We help each other to succeed as a team and grow as individuals – we fight and win together
- We like to get our hands dirty and do not shy away from responsibility – at air up your actions will have a direct impact on the business from day one
- We value your entrepreneurial spirit in everything you do and welcome you bringing new ideas and concepts to the table
- Our strong growth provides excellent development options – professionally, as well as personally
- Free coffee, fruit, and our own air up flavor pods in the office are naturally also a part of the deal
- We have a remote-friendly working culture and offer flexible working hours
- And last, but certainly not least - we have fun together! In our day-to-day work, at regular team events and in celebration of our successes

Up for a new challenge?

Take your chance to be part of air up's success story! We are looking forward to receive your CV, including start date and desired salary online through our career page.