STUDY PROGRAM

Do you enjoy putting seminar content directly into practice and thereby actively shaping the future of companies? With your master's degree at the School of International Business and Entrepreneurship (SIBE), the Graduate School for Leadership & Management at the Steinbeis University, you can do both: During your two-year job integrated master's degree, while working full-time in the company, you focus on working on a real project as well as on your personality and competency development.

You will directly apply the knowledge you gain in your company's project since the SIBE follows an Experience Based Curriculum (EBC). You and your peers will constantly reflect on your own development of competencies and surpass yourself! Within your small international studies group, you will constantly interact on our E-Campus, diverse discussion and task formats are waiting for you!

COMPANY

We are Unit4, a leading provider of enterprise applications empowering people in service organizations. We are on a mission because we no longer accept the digital downgrade that people experience when they swap their personal devices for their work ones. We create business software that fits the way people work, not the other way around. Help us be the best and join us!

Unit4 has just released a state of the art cloud ERP system called ERPx. With the rise of cloud based systems, the game changes for the applications market in Germany. Therefore we are building a new international team of cloud natives in sales and presales. This role is to support our current presales team and in future becoming an essential part of this team. Therefore we will train you extensively in our (cloud) solution offering that you are becoming an expert in these solutions. You will present these solution to our customers and show them the benefits of our solutions.
