

Lecture schedule Aalen University

In our new room planning tool, you can access and plan your lectures on a daily basis. Numerous new functionalities are also available to you here.

- Compilation of your own lecture plan
By selecting the respective courses, you can create a lecture plan tailored to your needs. lecture plan tailored to you. Overlapping dates are displayed directly, so that you can plan easily and clearly.
- iCal
You can transfer your individual lecture plan to your own calendar using the iCal function. calendar using the iCal function. Changes are updated automatically. So you are always up to date.
- Stay informed
You have the option of subscribing to lectures. If the lectures you have subscribed to are postponed or the room changes, you will be informed of any changes within the next two weeks by e-mail.
- Timetables at the lecture rooms
In future, you will find a QR code on all lecture rooms. You can use this QR code to call up the current room plan. You can also view the current room occupancy via our new room planning tool.
- Search functions
You can perform various searches with the new room planning tool, In particular, you can use a comprehensive room search to find the current occupancy of the room in question. current occupancy of the respective room.
- Exam schedule
The above-mentioned functionalities are also available for examinations and the examination period from the summer semester 2020.

All important information as well as corresponding usage and installation instructions can be found on our homepage under the following link: Room management You can access the lecture or examination schedule directly via the start page of the homepage of Aalen University.

Important: In order to be able to use the new planning tool without restrictions, you should not use Internet Explorer not use Internet Explorer. This can lead to problems when calling up or display. Please use Mozilla or Chrome as your browser.